Question 1 TC 1빈칸

For the blank, select the entry that best completes the text.

Although most of her colleagues _____ that the science of ecology can be practiced without taking a stand on environmental issues, the scientist insists that certain ecological studies can be undertaken without adopting any particular position on such issues.

- ○A lament
- ○B deny
- ○C contend
- ○D worry
- ○E theorize

Question 2 TC 2빈칸

For each blank, select one entry from the corresponding column of choices.

Her argument, though stimulating, is far from being proof against all reproach: several of its most crucial hypotheses are rather more (i) _____ than (ii) _____.

| Blank (i) | Blank (ii) |
|---|---|
| simplistic | sincere |
| provocative | probable |
| convincing | conventional |

Question 3 TC 3빈칸

For each blank, select one entry from the corresponding column of choices.

When a new scientific model emerges, research studies (i)_____ that paradigm tend to dominate in the scientific literature: the process of selecting articles for publication is tilted toward positive results. But once the paradigm (ii)_____, the academic incentives shift in the opposite direction: research results are more likely to be considered worthy of publication when they (iii)_____ what has become the established view.

| Blank (i) | Blank (ii) | Blank (iii) |
|---|---|---|
| tweaking | is initially articulated | bolster |
| affirming | has become entrenched | circumvent |
| controverting | is about to be attacked | undermine |

Questions 4 to 5 are based on the following passage.

At roughly four thousand lines, the second quarto version of Hamlet—the closest surviving version to what Shakespeare first wrote in late 1599—could not have been performed uncut. Though the Elizabethan stage dispensed with time-consuming intermissions and scenery changes, this version would still have taken four hours to perform; even at top speed, actors couldn't rattle off much more than a thousand lines of verse an hour. With outdoor performances beginning at two in the afternoon and the sun setting at around five o'clock, an uncut Hamlet staged in late fall or winter would have left actors stumbling about on a dark stage. Contemporary references to other plays mention their running time as being closer to two hours.

Question 4 RC

Select one answer choice.

Which statement best expresses the author's main conclusion in the passage?

○A The second quarto version of Hamlet may have been performed in an indoor theater.

○B The version of Hamlet that was originally performed must have had a considerably longer running time than did most other plays staged in Elizabethan theaters.

○C The second quarto version of Hamlet may have been intended for readers rather than for theatrical performers.

○D The second quarto version of Hamlet is far too long to have been performed on the Elizabethan stage.

○E The version of Hamlet performed on the Elizabethan stage had to have been less than half the length of the second quarto version.

Question 5 RC

Select one answer choice.

Which statement best describes the function of the highlighted sentence?

○A It summarizes the central claim of the author's argument.

○B It underscores the importance of evidence previously presented in the passage.

○C It supplies additional evidence to support the author's argument.

○D It qualifies a point made earlier in the passage.

○E It anticipates and refutes an objection to the author's claims.

Question 6 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

Although some literary scholars may express disdain for words meant for popular audiences, only the most _____ proponent of so-called great literature could dismiss the works in a recent anthology of African science fiction as formulaic pulp.

- ☐ A radical
- ☐ B pedantic
- ☐ C oblivious
- ☐ D hidebound
- ☐ E illiberal
- ☐ F charitable

Question 7 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

A cure for the common cold has been so elusive that it has become a modern symbol of _____.

- ☐ A danger
- ☐ B futility
- ☐ C unease
- ☐ D pointlessness
- ☐ E sloth
- ☐ F apathy

Question 8 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

Of the lizard species capable of traveling long distances beneath desert sands, most have very _____ limbs; by contrast, the sandfish lizard has well-developed limbs with which it propels itself through the sand.

- ☐ A modest
- ☐ B unusual
- ☐ C ungainly
- ☐ D limited
- ☐ E agile
- ☐ F nimble

Question 9 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

A strong basic science program can be _____: the rate of return on capital invested in basic science is about three times that of capital invested in applied research and development.

- ☐ A idealistic
- ☐ B remunerative
- ☐ C lucrative
- ☐ D transcendent
- ☐ E feasible
- ☐ F radical

Questions 10 to 12 are based on the following passage.

> Early in the twentieth century, San Francisco was the main venue for African American jazz musicians on the West Coast of the United States. Musical activity was centered in a district known as the Barbary Coast, where an abundance of nightclubs provided ample work opportunities for local players and drew musicians and other entertainers, many of them African American, from throughout the country. In 1921, as part of its Prohibition-era efforts, the government closed the Barbary Coast. This closure was the decisive event that established Los Angeles as the premier center for jazz on the West Coast. Once the Barbary Coast was shut down, it became far harder for jazz musicians to make a living in San Francisco; thus, many headed south to Los Angeles.
> Yet even before that closing, the center of jazz activity had begun to swing southward. With the largest and fastest growing African American urban community in the West, as well as the growing movie industry and an emerging recording industry, Los Angeles was already a magnet for jazz musicians from other parts of the country, especially New Orleans, where jazz players suffered a devastating blow with closing of the Storyville district in 1917.

Question 10 RC

Select one answer choice.

The primary purpose of the passage is to

- ○ A point out the parallel effects on jazz music of governmental actions in San Francisco and New Orleans
- ○ B offer an alternative to the standard explanation for the decline of San Francisco as a jazz center
- ○ C argue for the importance of Californian cities in the development of jazz
- ○ D present and refute an argument about the reasons for a demographic shift in jazz activity
- ○ E outline the factors that contributed to a change in the geographical locust of jazz activity

Question 11 RC

Select one answer choice.

The passage cites which of the following as a factor helping to explain San Francisco's preeminence as a center for jazz music on the West Coast early in the twentieth century?

○A The number of job opportunities for musicians in San Francisco's nightclub district

○B The efforts by the government to enforce Prohibition in San Francisco

○C The existence of venues for many different types of jazz in the San Francisco area

○D The relative accessibility of San Francisco, as compared to Los Angeles, for musicians from elsewhere in the country

○E The fact that San Francisco at that time had a larger African American population than Los Angeles

Question 12 RC

Select one answer choice.

It can be inferred from the passage that, for African American musicians, which of the following became an advantage of Los Angeles over San Francisco only after 1921?

○A It became easier to travel to Los Angeles than to San Francisco.

○B Prohibition had less impact on the availability of work opportunities in Los Angeles.

○C Nightclubs in Los Angeles offered better pay to jazz musicians than did nightclubs in San Francisco.

○D The movie industry in Los Angeles became an important source of employment for jazz musicians.

○E The African American community in Los Angeles began to expand rapidly.

Section 2 15 Questions · 23 Minutes

Question 1 TC 1빈칸

For the blank, select the entry that best completes the text.

Some of the writers whose interviews with the Paris Review are included in this volume were caught in the final years of their lives, and these interviews thus lend _____ mood to the collection.

- ○A an autumnal
- ○B a scintillating
- ○C a liberal
- ○D an apolitical
- ○E a cosmopolitan

Question 2 TC 2빈칸

For each blank, select one entry from the corresponding column of choices.

Though it may not seem (i) _____, the fate of the grizzly bears, which have been both feared and revered throughout history, may hinge on something as (ii) _____ as a lowly moth.

| Blank (i) | Blank (ii) |
|---|---|
| plausible | widespread |
| impressive | enduring |
| incongruous | unexceptional |

Question 3 TC 2빈칸

For each blank, select one entry from the corresponding column of choices.

Up to the 1970s, histories of science tended to be (i) _____, not least in their focus on discoveries and theories that could be read as anticipating later scientific orthodoxies, rather than on those deemed (ii) _____ in their own periods. Historians of science are now routinely far more sensitive on such scores.

| Blank (i) | Blank (ii) |
|---|---|
| anachronistic | major |
| convoluted | fallacious |
| undogmatic | inessential |

Question 4 TC 3빈칸

For each blank, select one entry from the corresponding column of choices.

Many perplexed observers find present-day museum design a choice between outlandishly sculptural structures that (i) _____ the proper display of art and neutral containers so (ii) _____ to art that all architectural presence is lost. But the New Museum persuasively demonstrates that honoring art and honoring architecture need not be (iii) _____ propositions.

| Blank (i) | Blank (ii) | Blank (iii) |
|---|---|---|
| ignore | submissive | carefully considered |
| enhance | demeaning | mutually exclusive |
| honor | impervious | entirely practical |

Questions 5 to 6 are based on the following passage.

> In late imperial China (circa 1650-1850), excessive exploitation came not from the sovereign but from his agents, who had shorter-term goals and narrower interests than their ruler did. While the emperor's interest in preempting rebellion militated against overtaxation, his agents had incentives to exploit the taxpayers for their own benefit. Due to weak oversight, the emperor had to keep the taxes low and his bureaucracy small to mitigate this "tyranny at the bottom" effect. This fiscal weakness of the Chinese state had long been masked by its huge tax base; however, the economic expansion of the eighteenth century exacerbated the problems of administrative control, further squeezing the nation's finances and leaving China ill prepared for the challenges of the nineteenth century.

Question 5 RC

(Highlighted portion: "the taxes low and his bureaucracy small")

Select one answer choice.

It can be inferred that the author assumes which of the following about the emperor's strategy of keeping "the taxes low and his bureaucracy small"?

- ○A It was implemented with little understanding of its consequences.
- ○B It was a concession made to ameliorate an unacceptable situation
- ○C It was an indication of the emperor's refusal to compromise his principles
- ○D It was a rare success in a policy area characterized by failure
- ○E It was a choice of the common good over the emperor's personal interests.

Question 6 RC

Select one answer choice.

It can be inferred from the passage that the Chinese emperor and the bureaucracy differed with respect to

- ○A the priority each placed on preventing popular rebellion
- ○B the aversion of each to economic and bureaucratic reform
- ○C the interest each showed in addressing the fiscal weakness of the state
- ○D the willingness of each to encourage economic stability through large tax revenues
- ○E the enthusiasm each had for the expansion of the Chinese economy

Questions 7 to 9 are based on the following passage.

There is mounting evidence that the frequency and magnitude of landsliding is changing in many parts of the world in response to climate change. This is not surprising, given that precipitation is one of the two external triggering mechanisms—the other being seismic activity—involved in the formation of landslides. Evidence from the past clearly indicates that cycles of elevated landslide activity have been followed by cycles of low activity, and that these are correlated with climate fluctuations over a variety of timescales.

What sets current changes in landslide activity apart is the likely influence of anthropogenic (i.e., human-caused) factors, either acting alone or in concert with climate, which can further modify the process of landsliding and the nature of ecosystem responses. Among these factors, deforestation and land-use change have the potential to influence the frequency and magnitude of landsliding because of their direct effects on vegetation attributes that influence slope stability. The extent and conditions under which mountain ecosystems are resilient to these changes—that is, the amount of disturbance they can absorb before changing into states with different structure and function—are not known. Addressing this issue is crucial for the long-term conservation of mountainscapes.

Question 7 RC

(Highlighted portion: "Evidence from the past")

Select one answer choice.

The author of the passage cites "evidence from the past" in order to

○A Support a partial explanation

○B Concede a potential objection

○C Dismiss an apparent counterexample

○D Highlight a scientific consensus

○E Account for a historical anomaly

Question 8 RC

Select one answer choice.

The passage makes which of the following claims?

○A A rise in precipitation resulting from human factors has increased the frequency and magnitude of landsliding.

○B Human factors have led to greater changes in landsliding activity than have cyclical climate fluctuations.

○C Decreases in landsliding activity have historically been accompanied by changes in climate.

○D Slope stability is more influenced by seismic activity than it is by human factors.

○E Changes in land-use patterns in mountain ecosystems are generally correlated with changes in climate.

Question 9 RC 복수

Consider each of the choices separately and select all that apply.

The author of the passage suggests which of the following about the role of human factors in landsliding activity?

- ☐ A Human factors can intensify or alter the effects of climate change on landsliding activity.
- ☐ B It is likely that human factors affect landsliding activity more than climate change does.
- ☐ C Until recently, human factors did not have much impact on landsliding activity.

Question 10 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

Geologists' customary distinction between planetary mantle and core material appears increasingly _____: liquid oxides can be considered either molten mantle constituents or electrically conducting core components.

- ☐ A incontrovertible
- ☐ B untenable
- ☐ C dogmatic
- ☐ D flawed
- ☐ E contradictory
- ☐ F confusing

Question 11 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

Critics have universally recognized Toni Morrison for _____ the limited perspectives of mainstream United States history by reclaiming the narratives of African American history, particularly from a female point of view.

- ☐ A defining
- ☐ B correcting
- ☐ C inferring
- ☐ D espousing
- ☐ E adopting
- ☐ F redressing

Question 12 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

Elizabethan actor Richard Tarlton was so _____ in appearance that a mere glimpse of his grinning face peeping through a curtain was enough to trigger prolonged peals of laughter.

- ☐ A animated
- ☐ B risible
- ☐ C comely
- ☐ D ludicrous
- ☐ E handsome
- ☐ F anomalous

Question 13 is based on the following passage.

> In an attempt to reduce the number of violent crimes committed by juveniles, the city of Fiera imposed a curfew requiring juveniles—everyone younger than eighteen—to be indoors between the hours of 11 P.M. and 6 A.M. In the two years since the curfew was imposed, the number of violent crimes committed by juveniles in Fiera has fallen by almost ten percent. Clearly, therefore, the curfew has proven effective at reducing violent juvenile crime.

Question 13 CR

Which of the following, if true, most strengthens the argument?

- ○ A The majority of nonviolent crimes committed by juveniles in Fiera occur between 3 P.M. and 8 P.M.
- ○ B The overall rate of violent crime in Fiera has gone up slightly over the past two years.
- ○ C After varying around an apparently stable average for several years, the number of violent crimes committed by juveniles in Fiera increased by twelve percent the year before the imposition of the curfew.
- ○ D Over the last two years, the city of Fiera has substantially increased the size of its police department and made some changes in the crime-fighting tactics the police use.
- ○ E Over the past two years, fewer juveniles have been arrested in Fiera for curfew violations than have been arrested for violent crimes.

Questions 14 to 15 are based on the following passage.

Some economists suggest that all firms would be expected to pay workers doing identical jobs the same wage. However, studies show that high-profit industries tend to pay more. While some of this observed wage gap could be due to difficulties in measuring workers' talent, it is unlikely that such measurement problems can explain everything. Although talent is hard to measure, factors with which it is presumably correlated, such as education and tenure, are not. Yet studies that control for those factors still find big wage disparities. Moreover, although receptionists, for example, do not become less talented when they leave a high-profit industry to work in an industry with lower profits, their pay tends to drop in line with the wage gap between the two.

Question 14 RC 복수

Consider each of the choices separately and select all that apply.

According to the passage, which of the following is true regarding difficulties in measuring workers' talent?

- ☐ A These difficulties cannot fully explain the observed wage gap.
- ☐ B These difficulties are greater in high-profit industry than in low-profit industries.
- ☐ C These difficulties can be eliminated by controlling for education and tenure.

Question 15 RC

Select one answer choice.

Which of the following best describes the function of the highlighted sentence ("Moreover, ... the two.") in the context of the passage as a whole?

- ○ A To analyze an unusual trend regarding measurement problems that was referred to earlier in the passage
- ○ B To offer a hypothesis that explains the measurement problems referred to earlier in the passage
- ○ C To cite an instance that supports an assumption about measurement problems that was made earlier in the passage
- ○ D To evaluate an assertion regarding the wage disparity that was mentioned in the preceding sentence
- ○ E To qualify the claim regarding workers doing identical jobs that was made in the first sentence
