Questions 4 to 5 are based on the following passage.

New underwater tunnel projects increasingly rely upon immersed tube technology, which involves digging a channel in the seabed and then sinking prefabricated tunnel sections into it. As well as being more resilient in earthquakes, immersed tubes are generally faster and less expensive to build than traditional bored tunnels. To begin with, problems with one section of tunnel won't necessarily delay the entire project, and because immersed tubes can have a rectangular cross-section, they are a more efficient shape than circular tunnels for side-by-side railway lines. And while bored tunnels are usually considered stable only if their depth under the seabed at least equals their diameter, immersed tubes can sit immediately under the seafloor, allowing shallower approach gradients.

Question 4 RC

Select one answer choice.

The highlighted sentence performs which of the following function in the passage?

○A It helps explain how tunnels built for trains differ from those built primarily for automobiles.

○B It points out some of the advantages of bored tunnel technology.

○C It lists several attributes of immersed tube tunnels that support the previous sentence's assertion.

○D It emphasizes the extent to which unanticipated delays can add to a project's cost.

○E It introduces evidence that challenges certain claims about bored tunnels made earlier in the passage.

Question 5 RC 복수

Consider each of the choices separately and select all that apply.

It can be inferred from the passage that which of the following is characteristic of bored tunnels?

☐A They are the preferred option for crossing shallower spans of water.

☐B Their stability suffers if they are not built deeply enough.

☐C The shape of their cross-sections cannot be rectangular.

Question 6 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

Despite much _____ the country's political system, the fact that supporters failed in their attempts to change the constitution to allow the President to run again speaks well of the system's fundamental strengths.

☐A faith in

☐B confidence in

☐C frustration regarding

☐D skepticism regarding

☐E hesitation toward

☐F doubt about

Question 7 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

Fungi are a basic component of every ecosystem, and their importance cannot be _____, but mycologists generally lack an understanding of which fungi are present in oceans and what roles they play.

- ☐ A gainsaid
- ☐ B underestimated
- ☐ C calculated
- ☐ D disputed
- ☐ E exaggerated
- ☐ F matched

Question 8 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

The campaign official argued that the large swings in the candidate's approval ratings were a result not of the _____ of the electorate but rather of the polls' margins of error and divergent methodologies.

- ☐ A exactitude
- ☐ B resurgence
- ☐ C capriciousness
- ☐ D volatility
- ☐ E partisanship
- ☐ F scrupulousness

Question 9 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

Because the chemical and physical properties of a material are a function of its structure, the enhanced three-dimensional results derived from a crystallographic study have become _____ the overall characterization of any new material.

- ☐ A consistent with
- ☐ B dependent on
- ☐ C determined by
- ☐ D peripheral to
- ☐ E indispensable to
- ☐ F vital to

Questions 10 to 12 are based on the following passage.

French painter Édouard Manet's 1863 painting《Le Bain》sparked controversy in part for its depiction of figures in contemporary dress. Though as long ago as 1824 the novelist Stendhal had urged artists to depict "the men of today and not those who probably never existed," serious paintings of modern-day Parisians were still relatively rare; the foremost painter of Manet's era, Ernest Meissonier, was celebrated for his idyllic scenes of the past. Manet's teacher Thomas Couture had achieved renown for his historical tableau of Roman times,《The Romans of the Decadence》, and he required his students to copy the works of old masters. However, he also urged his students to take as the subjects of their own paintings contemporary sights such as workmen, public holidays, and examples of modern technology. Manet may have seemed an unlikely convert to the cause, with the inspiration for his early paintings coming mostly from old masters he had sketched in the Louvre and the Uffizi. Still, Manet had begun paying heed to the advice of his teacher with canvases such as《The Absinthe Drinker》(1858) and《The Old Musician》(1862). He continued this trend in《Le Bain》, even if he appropriated his figures' poses directly from a 1518 Raphael drawing.

Question 10 RC

Select one answer choice.

The primary purpose of the passage is to

- ○A argue that Manet was relatively slow to adopt the newest approaches to painting
- ○B illustrate the authority that Manet's example had with the artists of his time
- ○C situate Manet's choice of subject within the context of contemporary trends
- ○D compare the poses used in Manet's《Le Bain》with those found in two of his earlier paintings
- ○E emphasize the influence of Manet's teacher on nineteenth-century painting

Question 11 RC

(Highlighted portion: “advice”)

Select one answer choice.

The "advice" referred to in the passage is to

- ○A avoid idealized subjects
- ○B develop one's technique by copying approved works
- ○C draw inspiration from works of old masters
- ○D choose subjects contemporary with the artist
- ○E use one's artistic imagination

Question 12 RC

Select one answer choice.

The passage implies which of the following about Thomas Couture's painting《The Romans of the Decadence》?

- ○A Its renown had faded by the time Manet began to study with Couture.
- ○B It was admired less than some of Meissonier's paintings and probably was not idyllic.
- ○C Its subject probably would not have been recommended by Stendhal.
- ○D It was studied by Couture's students as a required part of their instruction.
- ○E It was a work that Couture rejected in later life.

Section 2 15 Questions · 23 Minutes

Question 1 TC 1빈칸

For the blank, select the entry that best completes the text.

Questions 5 to 6 are based on the following passage.

> More than two decades after the death of George Balanchine, the choreographer's legacy is strangely unclear. In part this is because ballet has shallow roots in American culture. When Balanchine arrived in the United States in 1933, American ballet was little more than a vaudeville act. During the next 50 years, he raised American ballet to an internationally recognized art, producing an impressive body of great ballets and laying a foundation for generations to come—or so it was thought at the time of his death. But dance has no written tradition and disappears easily from collective memory: unless Balanchine's dances are alive and interesting now, we are likely to forget why they ever seemed so important.

Question 5 RC 복수

Consider each of the choices separately and select all that apply.

It can be inferred that the author of the passage would probably agree with which of the following statements about ballet's lack of a written tradition?

- ☐ A This lack is one reason that ballet has shallow roots in American culture.
- ☐ B This lack makes it imperative that a ballet be performed regularly for it to remain alive.
- ☐ C This lack makes it more difficult to preserve a particular ballet in the public's consciousness.

Question 6 RC

Select one answer choice.

The passage suggests that at the time of Balanchine's death, many people thought which of the following about Balanchine's work?

- ○ A There was little danger that Balanchine's work would be forgotten.
- ○ B It was unlikely that Balanchine's body of work would ever be equaled.
- ○ C Balanchine's work had only shallow roots in American culture.
- ○ D Balanchine's work was difficult to understand due to the lack of a written balletic tradition.
- ○ E Balanchine's work made work by other American choreographers look like a vaudeville act.

Questions 7 to 9 are based on the following passage.

As they unearth long-ignored women's writings, some feminist literary scholars have a tendency to evaluate those writings according to current ideological standards. This tendency, however understandable, has certain pitfalls, as feminist response to three late-seventeenth- and early-eighteenth-century English female playwrights demonstrates. Mary Pix, Catharine Trotter, and Delarivier Manley each wrote at least four plays and were known collectively as the “Female Wits.” These women saw themselves as participating in a common endeavor, but feminist scholars have evaluated their works in very different terms. Trotter and Manley have been praised for their depiction of “feminist” themes—Trotter because of her insistence on feminine virtue, and Manley because of her depiction of strong, if sometimes villainous, heroines—while Pix's works, because they depict women in ways now considered stereotypically “feminine,” are often dismissed.

Yet Pix is conservative only within a present-day context: within the context of late-seventeenth- and early-eighteenth-century English drama, Pix's plays were more formally innovative than Manley's and more successful than either Manley's or Trotter's. She also broke new ground regarding subject matter, addressing contemporary social issues such as class upheaval. However, these acts are rarely acknowledged by scholars of the Female Wits.

Question 7 RC

Select one answer choice.

The primary purpose of the passage is to

○A consider the consequences of a scholarly oversight

○B question the ideological consistency of certain literary critics

○C show the shortcomings of a critical propensity

○D discuss the contradictions inherent in a literary movement

○E demonstrate certain difficulties involved in unearthing obscure literary works

Question 8 RC

Select one answer choice.

According to the passage, feminist literary scholars of the Female Wits have a tendency to

○A overlook the originality of certain features of Pix's plays

○B exaggerate the stereotypically feminine characteristics of Pix's heroines

○C dwell on the progressive nature of Pix's views on social issues

○D downplay the villainous nature of some of Manley's heroines

○E misinterpret Trotter's insistence on feminine virtue

Question 9 RC

(Highlighted portion: "addressing contemporary social issues such as class upheaval")

Select one answer choice.

The author's reference to Pix's "addressing contemporary social issues such as class upheaval" serves primarily to

○A suggest that Pix's political and social views were stereotypically "feminine"

○B identify a Pixian subject that feminist scholars have consistently misinterpreted

○C help explain why Pix's plays proved to be more successful than either Manley's or Trotter's

○D support the claim that Pix's plays pursued previously unexplored topics

○E identify a factor that contributed to the formal innovativeness of Pix's plays

Question 10 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

If aging is merely an avoidable by-product of life rather than a necessary progression, it is possible that we might eventually forestall _____.

☐A senescence

☐B dynamism

☐C decrepitude

☐D privation

☐E ennui

☐F vitality

Question 11 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

While there is no evidence that Bigfoot is real, several well-known species were once thought to be _____; the okapi, for instance, was known as the "African unicorn" until explorers obtained proof of its existence.

☐A threatened

☐B fabulous

☐C extinct

☐D defunct

☐E legendary

☐F secretive

Question 12 SE

Select the two answer choices that produce completed sentences that are alike in meaning.

By 1600, France's sense of itself as a nation bound by a shared destiny was _____, but over the course of the seventeenth century, French culture regained the strength it had had in the Middle Ages.

- ☐ A absent
- ☐ B innocuous
- ☐ C benign
- ☐ D unique
- ☐ E precarious
- ☐ F uncertain

Question 13 is based on the following passage.

> Virtually everyone who speaks Torvic lives in Torvia, a small country that takes pride in its unique culture. Since Torvia trades with many other countries, however, most people who live in Torvia speak several languages, and many languages are taught in Torvia's public schools. Nevertheless, from these facts it should not be inferred that most speakers of Torvic speak several languages, because _____.

Question 13 CR

Select one answer choice.

Which of the following most logically completes the argument?

- ○ A very few languages are as difficult to learn as a second language as Torvic is
- ○ B of all the people in the world who speak several languages, only a small minority speak Torvic
- ○ C few people who live in Torvia actually speak Torvic
- ○ D few people who live in Torvia have ever lived outside Torvia
- ○ E some of the languages taught in Torvia's public schools are not spoken in any of the countries with which Torvia trades

Questions 14 to 15 are based on the following passage.

> After Henry IV usurped the English throne from Richard II in 1399, evidence suggests the new king censored records that portrayed the new regime unfavorably. While no censorship orders are preserved, one chronicler mentions that Henry ordered all chronicles inspected. That not a single English chronicle is critical of the coup is a pretty good indication that Henry suppressed any hostile material. Moreover, the single voice with which the English chronicles praise Henry and defame Richard after 1399 is challenged by the contrary version of events recorded in the French chronicles. For most of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, this discrepancy was attributed to French Anglophobia, but the accuracy and value of the French chronicles has now been reappraised.

Question 14 RC

Select one answer choice.

It can be inferred from the passage that many historians in the nineteenth century believed that the French chroniclers

○A overly praised Richard II during his reign

○B were less meticulous than their English counterparts

○C distorted their accounts of the events of 1399 because of antipathy toward England

○D refused requests by those in power to have their chronicles inspected

○E willfully ignored events in England in favor of recording happenings closer to home

Question 15 RC 복수

Consider each of the choices separately and select all that apply.

The passage mentions which of the following as evidence suggesting censorship on the part of Henry IV?

☐A Henry's request to inspect the chronicles

☐B The uniformity of those chronicles' criticism of Henry's predecessor

☐C The disparity between accounts offered in English and French chronicles
